

Nicole

NICOLE is originally from Zurich, Switzerland, but moved here in 2000.

The 19-year-old misses the Alpine weather.

"The worst thing when I first came here was the humidity."

But she has since adapted to it, in fact quite easily, she says.

She adds: "Here, it's like summer every day."

20 Things about Nicole

I'm goofy and playful and not afraid to just be myself.

I'm honest and blunt.

My personality is the most attractive thing about me.

I don't know what my greatest fear is.

I don't think you need to have a pick-up line to get to know a girl.

The contrast between gold and black is so beautiful. It is classy, elegant and sophisticated.

I am drawn to house music.

The documentary The Secret is about the power of the human mind and I found it very inspirational.

My favourite cuisine is definitely Asian.

I love spicy food like nasi goreng kampung.

I prefer a Macintosh.

I own a mixing console at home to learn how to do remixes.

I'm really passionate about music.

I would travel the world alone if given the opportunity.

I have directed a play in high-school before.

I visited my home in Switzerland last year. I got to touch snow again!

I would like to gain more confidence in public speaking and facing large crowds.

Sometimes my mind freezes up and I don't complete my sentences.

I want to make people more open-minded.

I adopted a cat named Timmy eight years ago.
